Altro Whiterock™ and Altro Stronghold™ 30

Complete hygiene solution elected to Scottish Parliament

Case Study: Scottish Parliament

A combination of Altro Stronghold 30 and Altro Whiterock was used to great effect in the kitchens of the Scottish Parliament. The Altro products were chosen as a hygienic, grout-free alternative to tiles. Their specification ensures that all kitchen surfaces remain clean and bacteria free. The parliament building caters for over 400 hundred staff and thousands of visitors ever year. A clean kitchen environment is absolutely essential.

Altro Whiterock is a hygienic PVCu wall cladding that is highly resistant to impact, spills and splashes. Stronghold 30 is a safe floor surface that's ideal for a busy kitchen environment. Designed for use in wet, greasy areas it combines excellent underfoot safety with long term durability and ease of cleaning.

The use of Altro Stronghold and Altro Whiterock together allows the entire kitchen surface to be easily maintained with no joints where moisture, dirt and bacteria can build up. This means that spills and splashes of food can be easily wiped without the problem of staining.
